Project-Based / Full-Time Faculty Position in Indigenous Studies

International Indigenous Interdisciplinary Program, National Sun Yat-sen University, Taiwan

I. POSITION

The International Indigenous Interdisciplinary Program at National Sun Yat-sen University (NSYSU), Taiwan, invites applications for one project-based or full-time faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor or above in Indigenous Studies or related fields. We especially encourage applications from Indigenous scholars. The successful candidate is expected to assume the position on February 1, 2027.

II. QUALIFICATIONS

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in a relevant field from a domestic or overseas university, or obtain the degree by the expected appointment date. Applicants must be able to teach in English and contribute to the University's English as a Medium of Instruction (EMI) courses. Applicants must meet the University's requirements for faculty appointments.

Relevant regulations and appointment guidelines can be found at:

<https://share.google/DqRgjJHtlhzjxXSgI>.

III. APPLICATION MATERIALS

Applicants should submit two hard copies and one electronic copy (PDF format) of the following materials, except recommendation letters, in the order listed below:

1. Curriculum vitae (CV), including educational background, employment history, an autobiographical statement, honors, awards, and other relevant information.
2. A complete list of publications, categorized by journal articles, books, book chapters, conference papers, research projects, and other scholarly outputs.
3. One representative publication and additional selected publications (full-text copies required).
4. Copy of Ph.D. diploma. Applicants with foreign degrees are required to provide authenticated degree certificates and transcripts in accordance with Taiwan regulations before appointment. Such documents may be submitted at a later stage if authentication is still pending.
5. Copy of teaching certificate (if applicable).
6. Research and teaching materials, including:

- Research interests and agenda;
 - Teaching philosophy;
 - At least two course syllabi for courses the applicant is prepared to teach.
7. Additional supporting materials that may be relevant to the review process, such as research accomplishments, teaching evaluations, or other professional achievements not listed above.
 8. At least two letters of recommendation, mailed directly by the referees.

IV. SELECTION PROCESS

Candidates who pass the second-stage screening will be invited to give a public presentation at the Program. Further details regarding the date, time, and venue will be provided separately.

V. APPOINTMENT

This is a project-based or full-time faculty position. The appointment is expected to begin on February 1, 2027.

VI. APPLICATION DEADLINE AND SUBMISSION

Application deadline: November 30, 2026 (postmark deadline).
